Millwood School is a college preparatory, independent co-ed day school serving students from junior kindergarten to twelfth grade. Located in Midlothian, VA, we provide a strong core curriculum that is enhanced by many special subjects and a variety of activities.

Millwood was founded by Dr. Louise Bagwell-Robinson. Recognizing the need for a comprehensive independent school in the Midlothian area, she dreamed of a nurturing environment with academic rigor and strong character education. Thanks to the support of the community, this dream became a reality in 1989.

THE MILLWOOD EXPERIENCE

Student Life

Outside the academic schedule, Millwood School offers numerous opportunities for students to utilize their talents and discover new passions. These activities are designed to build character, unity, and enthusiasm within our school. In addition to our music and drama programs, arts, athletics, and clubs, Millwood is home to an array of exciting traditions — annual events that enrich the experience and bring our student body together.

Finding Balance

Studies indicate that students who participate in extracurricular activities alongside academics are more likely to excel in both. Of course, to ensure this success, a school must help students maintain a healthy balance and strong focus on their studies.

At Millwood, we understand the mental and physical energy that some sports and activities require. Our teachers and coaches provide individual attention to each student, mentoring them as they pursue excellence in every endeavor. Millwood has a full-time school counselor, as well, who is available to meet with students individually, collaborates with teachers to best support student progress and well-being regularly, and provides classroom lessons on topics such as self-care, organization, and communication. Finding and maintaining balance is important as students prepare for college, work, and life.

Developing Leaders

Focusing on the real-world skills that class activities and extracurricular programs can provide, Millwood School uses every activity to develop students in a positive way. As members of the international Round Square community, students have a multitude of opportunities to discover the importance of teamwork, time management, and personal responsibility.

Whether in the classroom, at the gym, or on stage, Millwood students become proactive learners and leaders.
